

A Quiet, Happy Place.

Amir and Lina lived in a small cozy house near a green forest. Every morning, Amir helped Lina tie her shoes, carry her bag, and walk safely to school. Lina always smiled because she knew her brother would protect her no matter what.

After school, Amir and Lina played together in the garden. Amir built paper airplanes while Lina laughed and chased butterflies. They promised to always stay together like the sun and the moon.

One weekend, the town held a magical night fair with games, lights, and music. Lina was excited to see the glowing lanterns. Amir held her hand tightly as they explored the crowded fair.

While Amir was buying snacks, Lina saw a glowing butterfly and followed it without noticing she had wandered away. When Amir turned around, Lina was gone.

Amir felt scared but stayed brave. He searched every game booth and called Lina's name again and again. The fair suddenly felt huge and confusing.

Lina realized she was lost. The lights looked darker now, and she missed her brother very much. She sat near a tree and hugged her teddy bear tightly.

Suddenly, rain began to pour, and thunder rumbled across the sky. Amir ran through the storm, refusing to give up. Finally, he heard Lina crying near the old oak tree.

“Lina!” Amir shouted. Lina looked up and ran into his arms and hugs her to keep her warm and safe from the rain.

A Happy Reunion.

Amir brought Lina safely back to their parents. Lina apologized for wandering away, and Amir gently reminded her to always stay close. Their parents hugged both of them tightly.

That night, Lina looked at the stars outside her window and smiled. She knew her brother would always protect her, just like the brightest star guiding her home. Amir smiled too, happy that his little sister was safe.
