

A STORY FOR AGES 4-6

ika and the Dark Forest

A story about listening
to parents and making good choices.

With Beautiful
Pictures!

WRITTEN BY

RABIATUL ADAVIYAH

One sunny afternoon, Ika walked home from school with her little school bag. She hummed a happy song as she walked down the road.

Before school, Mother and Father had reminded her, "Ika, please go straight home after school."

But Ika was feeling playful
and naughty that day.
When she saw a small forest nearby, she decided to go inside.

Inside the forest, Ika saw colourful flowers and tall
green trees.

She happily skipped deeper into the woods.

After a while, Ika stopped walking.

She looked around and realized she was lost.

The sky slowly became dark,
and the wind blew softly
through the trees.
Ika began to feel very scared and lonely.

Tears rolled down Ika's cheeks as she cried for her mother and father.

"I should have listened to them," she sobbed.

Suddenly, during dusk, a mysterious forest spirit appeared in front of Ika.

The spirit wore white clothes and carried a glowing light.

The forest spirit gently said,
"I will help you find the way
home, but you must promise
never to enter the forest
alone again."

Ika nodded and promised to listen to her parents from then on.

After that day, she always obeyed their advice and never went into the forest alone again.

A STORY FOR AGES 4-6

iKa and the Dark Forest

A story about listening
to parents and making good choices.

THE END

Thank you
for reading!

WRITTEN BY
RABIATUL ADAVIYAH